BIO

Sexy Mathematics are a brand new indie rock band based out of Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, Canada!

Sexy Mathematics was derived after Chris Daviduik, who had already been spending years crafting indie pop melodies in his basement, decided to record 6 of his finest tracks for real...this time at a studio. The resulting compositions found on the Integration EP are a blend of piercing guitars and orchestrated synthesizers with alternative rocking drum and bass lines driving the songs to completion.

After opening for acclaimed indie acts including The Balconies, Women, Junior Pantherz, Spirits, Feral Children, Eamon McGrath, We Were Lovers and Jeanette Stewart (of Slow Down Molasses) Sexy Mathematics are looking forward to carving a niche of their own across Eastern Canada this summer. Musical influences are far and wide but predominantly consist of bands such as The Smashing Pumpkins, of Montreal and Cut Copy. Sexy Mathematics are Chris Daviduik on Guitar/Vocals, Liz Syrnick on Synthesizer/Backup Vocals, Dylan Smith on Drums and Brandon Mellish on Bass.
